

Statement of Economic Interests Addendum

Act 283 (2016) requires the filer to disclose the private source and type of income received in the previous year by the filer and members of the filer's immediate family. "Immediate family" is defined in Section 8-13-100(18) as either the filer's spouse, a child residing in the filer's house, or an individual claimed by the filer or spouse as a dependent for income tax purposes.

Section 8-13-1120(C) states that "income" is anything of value received, which must be reported on a form used by the Internal Revenue Service for the reporting or disclosure of income received by an individual or a business. Income does not include retirement, annuity, pension, IRA, disability, or deferred compensation payments received by the filer or filer's immediate family member, or any income received pursuant to a court order, a savings, checking or brokerage account with a licensed financial institution (as long as it is in the ordinary course of business), or a mutual fund or a similar fund where an investment company invests shareholders' money in diversified securities.

List all private sources and types of income received by you and members of your immediate family within the previous year (please list in order of recipient, source and type):
